Lowering medication costs and bringing full visibility to drug pricing.

Introducing the Clearinghouse Model™

Everyone knows AWP is flawed. We're the first PBM to move away from it.

Capital Rx is the first PBM to change how prescriptions are priced in over twenty years. The Clearinghouse Model™ adapts acquisition cost-plus pricing as the framework, and brings true visibility and transparency to drug prices, creating the same price for the PBM, pharmacy and employer.

THE BENEFITS ARE CLEAR.

Our pricing model uses National Average Drug Acquisition Cost (NADAC) as the source for drug prices. No more annual average effective rates, no more contract games and reconciliations. With NADAC, every medication has an individual price, allowing us to offer our clients true claim-level price accountability. The result? Significant savings, superior service, and a working relationship built on trust.
